How to Write a Bio

A bio is used in our programs to allow our audience members to get to know our actors. Bios can include past productions with OCP or other theatres, activities, hobbies, interests, etc. You also can include your social media handle if you wish! It's up to you!

Check out a few examples below.

Names have been changed from previous bio authors and edited for example usage ONLY.

YOUTH OPTIONS (returning and debut)

Jasmine Smith is thrilled to return to the Omaha Community Playhouse stage as ROLE in PRODUCTION TITLE. Most recently, you may have seen her as ROLE in PRODUCTION TITLE with THEATRE. Other theatre credits include playing an orphan in Annie (2019) and various roles in A Christmas Carol, both here at OCP. She enjoys attending theatre camps and can't go a day without singing. Jasmine is in eighth grade and in her free time loves baking, swimming, and hanging out with friends. She enjoys acting and would like to thank the wonderful actors and her family.

Jake Anderson is excited to make his acting debut at the Omaha Community Playhouse as ROLE in PRODUCTION TITLE. In his free time, he plays drums in a kid and family band. He's a skateboarder and plays soccer with his dad in the backyard. Jake is looking forward to participating in more shows as he gets older. He's super excited to perform on the stage for the very first time!

ADULT OPTIONS (returning and debut)

Andrew Jefferson returns to the OCP stage after last being seen as ROLE in PRODUCTION TITLE. Previous OCP credits include Ghost of Christmas Present in A Christmas Carol (2017, 2018) and Cogsworth in Disney's Beauty and the Beast (2017). He also appeared as ROLE in The Music Man (2021) at the Chanticleer Theater. Andrew received his doctorate from Creighton University and is an occupational therapist for COMPANY. In his free time, Bob loves to golf, enjoys watching Husker football and watching too much TV. All the love in the world to his best friend, greatest supporter, and wife, Katie!

Rachel Zane is excited to make her acting debut at the Omaha Community Playhouse, though she is no stranger to the stage. Over the years, Rachel has sung guest vocals for several local bands, performed in showcases and competitions – she's even done a wedding or two! She is currently the executive assistant at COMPANY. She would like to thank her awesome partner, Bill, and her family for their love and support. She also would like to thank the OCP family for all of their encouragement and continued passion for all they do to make the magic happen here!
